Allergen Statement

Porcine Gelatin / Hydrolysate

Type A Gelatin that we provide is a partially hydrolyzed purified extraction of collagen derived from the connective tissue of pigs.

There are sulfites used in the manufacture of gelatin, however per the United States Pharmacopeia / National Formulary specifications, it contains less than 50ppm. Typically, gelatin derived from this source contains much less than 10ppm.

There are no other allergens in the gelatin manufacturing process, and since gelatin is our only product, no food allergens are stored in our plant.
